What is Advocacy?

Advocacy ensures that people with disability are heard, respected, and empowered to make their own decisions. Advocacy support can assist when you:

- Feel your rights are not being respected
- Need guidance during NDIS meetings or service discussions
- Are unsure how to speak up or make a complaint
- Want help understanding your choices and responsibilities

You have the right to access independent advocacy at any time, free of charge.

Types of Advocacy

Individual Advocacy – One-on-one support for specific issues affecting you.

Systemic Advocacy – Focused on addressing unfair laws, policies, or systemic issues.

Legal Advocacy – Assistance with legal rights, discrimination, or complaints.

Self-Advocacy – Support and guidance to help you speak up for yourself confidently.
